Dear Heavenly,

Thank you for your generous gift giving thanks for my friends, including you.

When I sit down with my family this Thanksgiving, I'll be

Through your support, you are there for our veterans' families, when they feel worried, frustrated — even forgotten — you ensure they receive the benefits they earned, the care they need and the respect they deserve.

"My husband feels valued, once again, as a person," Roger's wife told us.

Gulf War veteran, Roger, was left with constant pain and limited mobility after service-connected kidney cancer. Yet his benefits claim was denied, leaving him feeling "confused and hopeless."

That's when he and his wife heard about DAV. Your support not only helped correct the error that led to his denial, says Roger, "DAV helped make my wife and myself whole again." His wife adds, "The encouragement he received enabled him to again become the man I knew when he was in the Air Force."

On behalf of all the families you've helped, and those still in need this Thanksgiving ...

Thank You!

J. Marc Burgess, DAV National Adjutant/CEO

P.S. You now have the opportunity to ask your friends and family to donate to DAV in lieu of gifts. Go to www.dav.org/birthday for more information.
